Shop Meetings Are Held.

Work among the industries of the city is now being mapped out in a systematic campaign, and three meets will send speakers. Since these shops have subscribed liberally to the four preceding issues of Liberty bonds, the committee is hopeful that the record will be maintained, and officials of the shops are working to obtain 100 per cent. Arrangements also were completed yesterday for a meeting at the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potonnac Railroad shops at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Dr. E. N. Calisch will speak.

As President Wilson explicitly points out in his statement, this is not the case. The pact assigned Fiume to the Croatians.

The Italians demand it now as continued to the allies in the war after the collapse of Russia, which resulted in the shift. The reason the pact of London is constantly mentioned in connection with the Italian threat is that the pact pledges all signatory powers against signing a separate peace with any of the central powers. Italy says, in effect, to the other allies:

"If you do not give us Fiume we pull out, but we hold you to the pact of London; you cannot sign peace with germany without us."
